William Randolph Hearst will deliver a nationwide radio address entitled "An Answer to Winston Churchill" at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Hearst will be heard over the NBC Blue Network, with WBZ and WBZA the local outlet. His address will be re-broadcast and transmitted by short wave in English, Spanish, Italian, German, French and Portuguese.

The broadcast will originate at San Simeon, Cal.

Hankow Bombed; Canton in Ruins

HONGKONG, Oct. 22 (INS)—Entering in a virtual procession of triumph, Japanese troops completed occupation of Canton today and immediately began "mopping up" straggling Chinese defenders.

An official Nipponese communiqué announced the complete capture of the important southern Chinese port, large areas of which were left in ruins by Chinese dynamiters before they retreated.

Advance Nipponese contingents, Japanese authorities said, were pursuing the fleeing Chinese west of the city. It was expected the main Chinese army would mass at Linghan before retiring into southern Kiangsi province.

HANKOW NEXT GOAL

Sporadic rifle and machine gun fire broke out as the invaders, who had waited in the outskirts to mass in full force before progressing to the center of Canton, penetrated the downtown areas.

As a result of this, the Japanese conducted a virtual house-to-house search for snipers. Far to the northwest, other Japanese legions prepared for a smashing blow that may carry them into Hankow almost as quickly as the fall of Canton was effected. Hankow was bombed by planes today.

Speeding up their offensive down the Yangtze valley, Japanese authorities warned foreign vessels in the Hankow waters they would be given until midnight to leave.

Hankow, the Japanese said, is to be subjected to intensive aerial bombardment.

WARN SHIPS AWAY

Another warning was issued to foreign ships in the lower Pearl river, leading to Canton, to leave. This led to belief that the Japanese may be planning a sudden

Stocks Led By Aircrafts

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Led by aircrafts, stock market leaders moved up fractions to $1 a share or more in today's early dealings.

At a moderately active opening gainers included Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, Westinghouse, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil of N. J., Loew's, U. S. Rubber, Chrysler and Southern Pacific.

"If Leverett Saltonstall should be elected—and I think it improbable—the President would stand repudiated by this state," Farley declared.

"Saltonstall is an honest man but like Dewey in New York he has reached the peak of his popularity," he added.

"Former Governor Curley is the psychological candidate and he is going to win."

LOOKS FOR VICTORY

"I am anxious to see a continuation of the Democratic party in Massachusetts for many reasons. The voters, I believe, have already made up their mind in our favor."

"I look for party victory both here and in New York."

Following a brief interview, Farley left the Copley-Plaza Hotel to visit his daughter, Betty, at Wellesley College infirmary, where she has been ill two weeks with an infected leg.

He was accompanied by another daughter, Ann, who, this afternoon went with her dad to the Harvard-Dartmouth game.

SPEAKS AT DINNER

The Democratic chieftain is to be the speaker tomorrow night at the $100-a-plate dinner of the Democratic party at the Copley Plaza. His speech will be broadcast over a nationwide radio hookup.

Stalin Death Report Denied

MOSCOW, Oct. 22 (INS)—Joseph Stalin is alive and well, it was confirmed today, in denial of round-about reports in the Roman newspaper Messagero that the Soviet dictator was dead or had "at least disappeared."

The Rome paper said the Stalin death rumor to an unconfirmed report from Ajkeli on the Finnish-Russian frontier.

"The Kremlin staff," the dispatch added, "has been maintaining absolute secrecy about the end of the Red tyrant in order to prevent a general revolution."

Edwards, 'Dean Of Letters,' Dies

MACON, Ga., Oct. 22 (AP)—Harry Stillwell Edwards, 63, noted Georgia author, died of bronchial pneumonia, in a hospital here early today.

Regarding the death of Georgia letters, he wrote the Negro folk tale, "Ensign Africannus," which sold 1,000,000 copies. "Sons and Fathers," a 155,000-word novel, was written in 22 days to win a $10,000 prize in a mystery story contest.

ARABS KILL SOLDIER

JERUSALEM, Oct. 22 (AP)—Death of a second British soldier was reported today in the new campaign to quell Arab insurrection against British rule in Palestine.

JOSEPHINE EVANS

It's 'Wah-Hoo' Day in Boston

Men of Dartmouth, and their ladies, stormed into town today by motor, plane and train for an annual football clash with Harvard.

They came with hopes that the 2 to 1 betting odds in their favor would hold up in the Stadium battle and not at all too optimistic that they could celebrate a victory in a score of scheduled parties tonight.

Vanguard of the Dartmouth cohorts made merry at a pre-game party at the Copley-Plaza, where 750 couples comprised the biggest social event of the football season.

It was a late crowd and an orderly one, with the make dances and whooping of other years absent. The ladies, quite noticeably, shunned the hoop skirts now finding favor in New York and because of the size of the crowd it was a satisfactory omission.

Wellesley, Smith and Radcliffe girls were among the pretty attendants at college parties at the Hotel Somerset and other hotels throughout the city.

Bay State Scouts Visit T. R.'s Grave

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Boy Scouts from New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island made their 19th annual pilgrimage to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, L. I., today.

CRASH BARES SECRET BRIDAL

A 36-year-old South End woman was in critical condition at Massachusetts General Hospital, while her companion, a 25-year-old West Newton man, was semi-conscious at Boston City Hospital, after the car in which they rode crashed into a parked ice truck in Charlestown today.

The woman is Miss Marjorie Waite of Massachusetts avenue, and the man is Henry Moore, married of Cherry street, West Newton.

The crash disclosed for the first time to neighbors and friends of Moore's family that the youth had been married several years ago.

Admitting his marriage, his family declined to reveal the identity of his wife or discuss the marriage.

According to police, the accident happened while the couple were en route to the girl's home after visiting friends.

FIREMEN AID VICTIMS

Moore was proceeding along Alford street, near the Everett-Charlestown line, when suddenly his car crashed into the ice truck owned by the Metropolitan Ice Company of Somerville.

The impact drove the vehicle under the rear of the truck, which necessitated the aid of firemen from Everett and Charlestown to extricate the victims from the wreckage.

Firemen were forced to use acetylene torches to burn parts of the wrecked car before they were able to reach the trapped couple. Everett police took the girl to the hospital while officers from Station 15 conveyed Moore to City Hospital.

INJURIES SERIOUS

Moore was found to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and face injuries.

At Massachusetts General Hospital Miss Waite's name was placed on the danger list. Doctors said she was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, face and body injuries and possible internal injuries.

Her mother, Mrs. Maude Waite, South End realtor, was near collapse when informed of her daughter's condition. She said her daughter was a graduate of a Back Bay business college.

Soviet Air Hero Dies in Crash

MOSCOW, Oct. 22 (AP)—The army newspaper Red Star disclosed today the death in an air crash of Alexander Bryandinsky, who flew 4300 miles non-stop from Moscow to Vladivostok last June with Vladimir Kokkinaki. No details of the accident were given.

He was given the coveted title of hero of the Soviet Union after the flight to the Far East, on which he was the navigator.

Killer Freed by Jailer's Daughter Must Die

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 22 (AP)—A superior court jury returned a death verdict today for James Godwin, High Point youth, who was charged with fatally shooting Donald Moss, a High Point textile worker, a few hours after he escaped from the Lexington jail October 3 with the aid of the jailer's daughter.

Two Pay Birth Control Fines

Two executives of the Birth Control League of Massachusetts today in municipal court withdrew their appeals from fines of $300 each levied against them for circulating contraceptive literature.

They are Mrs. Leslie D. Hawridge, president, and Mrs. Caroline C. Davis, educational director, of the league. They were represented by Attorney Walter E. Barrows. Judge Riley then imposed fines.

Girl to Pilot Racing Shell

A blonde girl coxswain will be in the pilot's seat today when the Phi Gamma Delta boat shapes up against five other fraternity crews of Massachusetts Institute of Technology for a sprint race on the Charles River.

She is Miss Jane Lundquist, a Wellesley senior, and she knows her boat racing. All the other crew members in the intra-fraternity race will be boys.

The fraternities are Phi Beta Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa and Beta Theta Pi.

Must Face 'Slave' Charge Monday

George Everett Newhall, 26, of Winchester, was speeding to Boston today in custody for federal officers to face arraignment Monday on white slave act charges in federal court.

The federal indictment was returned by the grand jury after hearing the story of 18-year-old Shirley Smith, Winchester playground instructor, who was found with Newhall in Lexington, N. C., after a nation-wide search.

Newhall, married, also will face charges preferred by Middlesex county authorities after the government completes its case.

Still unaware that Shirley had turned against him, Newhall wrote a letter to his mother in which he again protested his love for the girl.

"You see as I said in my previous letter, I adore her. It happens to be the real thing," the letter read.

"I want to hear from her. If I haven't heard pretty soon, I'm afraid I'll crack and go to pieces entirely."

Former Asst. U. S. Atty. John J. Walsh, Jr., has been retained by Newhall's mother to represent him in court.

Ordered Body Cremated

Find Hopkins', Friend's Notes

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (INS)—Only a few hours before beautiful Dorothy Hale plunged to her death from a window of her apartment in fashionable Hampshire House she wrote a note to her attorney indicating that she had contemplated death, it was revealed today.

"I want my body cremated and the ashes sent to Newport and placed alongside those of Gardner," wrote the pretty one-time actress and society favorite who had been reported engaged to WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins.

"Gardner" she referred to was Gardner Hale, her second husband, a painter of murals, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1931.

OTHER NOTES FOUND

Other notes were found today in the apartment to which Mrs. Hale had returned from a gay party early yesterday morning.

In one she directed that certain of her possessions be given to her sister Betty. In another she specified that her sister Marjorie was to have "any of my possessions she desires in case anything happens to me."

There was no lack of explanations today for Mrs. Hale's despondency. She had been ill, said some friends. She had long suffered from insomnia, said others. She had expected to be Hopkins' bride this summer, she had considered her life wasted and futile, said others.

SHOCK TO HOPKINS

There was no definite decision that Mrs. Hale committed suicide. "Fell or jumped," the police put it. The medical examiner's office declined to the dependency theory but had not returned an official finding.

Meanwhile, Manhattan's gayest

Bug in Her Ear For 26 Years

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Lizzie Metcalf's ear—it plagued her for years—doesn't ache any more.

After an X-ray examination, physicians removed a bug which Mrs. Metcalf realized flew into the ear 25 years ago. She said she had forgotten about it.

3 Spies Hanged At Budapest Jail

BUDAPEST, Oct. 22 (AP)—Three men charged with treason and spying were hanged today in the courtyard of the military prison.

They were Istvan Vida, a workman; Tibor Lorik, a factory foreman; and Bela Lorik, a carpenter.

Bryant Washburn's Son Elops, Weds

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22 (AP)—Surprised friends welcomed Bryant Washburn, Jr., 23 son of the actor, and Madeleine Jewel, 24, former secretary of the late Joan Harlow, back today from an elopement to Yuma, Ariz. The couple announced they were married Sunday.

Student Burned In Blast at Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 22 (INS)—Stuart R. Brinkley, Jr., 22, son of the associate professor of chemistry at Yale University, was seriously burned about the face and body today by an explosion in the Sterling chemist laboratory.

Messenger Boys Threaten Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Organized telegraph messenger boys countered with a strike threat today the request of their employers for exemption from a 23-cent an hour minimum of the federal wage hour bill effective Monday.

Someone Was Wrong

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (INS)—The 1000 anti-Nazis who stormed and broke up a meeting of about 100 persons, gathered to hear a talk about Hitler last night, made a slight mistake, police said today.

The meeting was not pro-Nazi, but anti.

Professor Hans Fischer, who was to have been headline speaker at the meeting, and who caught a sock on the jaw to become the evening's only casualty, said that although he once was a Hitler lieutenant, his talk would have been unfavorable to the German Fuehrer.

'Model' Lifer May Go to Boys Town

REV. FR. E. J. FLANAGAN
Aids Boy Slayer

Priest Will Weigh Character of Killer

A famous Catholic priest who has made the salvaging of bad boys a life work and a "model boy" from Wilmington, under sentence of life imprisonment for murder, will have an all-important interview within a day or two at the state prison in Kearney, Neb.

The boy is Gary Lester Ames, 14. Only a few months ago he was graduated with honors from his school in Wilmington.

Today he is in solitary confinement, beginning an endless sentence for a boxcar killing in Nebraska.

The priest is the Rev. E. J. Flanagan, celebrated founder and director of Boys Town in that Western state.

If the youngster can convince him he is really contrite, and not a natural killer, the priest will intercede for him with the state board of parole.

MAY ASK RELEASE

The priest may ask to have the boy released in his custody, and made a citizen of Boys Town, a model community, and one of the most interesting experiments in boy rehabilitation in the country.

The crusading priest was brought into the case by Joseph Lovely, public defender.

Lovely's aid was enlisted after an appeal from the Boston Legal Aid Society.

The society stated the lad's widowed mother was prostrated, and a victim of violent melancholia, and asked the defender not to give up.

"I want to talk to the youngster before making any move," Father Flanagan said. "And I hope my interest won't arouse any false hopes in the East."

CONFESSED KILLING

"As I get the story, the boy had tried to aid his mother and play the part of a father to smaller children in the family."

"When he got the wanderlust and started to hobo, he was too young to be on the road alone, and succumbed to temptation."

Ames and Don L. Galloway, 22, of Mansfield, O., confessed to killing Edward J. Billings of Chicago on October 12.

At first, they said they killed him because they were afraid he was going to assault them in the boxcar.

Billings, a derelict, was middle-aged, and not a powerful man, and the detectives refused to accept the story.

DIDN'T KNOW WHY

Eventually, the suspects admitted they killed him for purposes of robbery. First, they beat him with a sugar beet, then Galloway shot him.

Searching his pockets, they found only 76 cents. Infuriated by the amount, police say, young Ames, the model boy, drew a knife and mutilated the body.

During the brief hearing preceding their pleas of guilty, Ames said he didn't know why he did it.

Warns France; Pay U. S. Debt

PARIS, Oct. 22 (INS)—Immediate action to settle the question of France's defaulted war debt to the United States was demanded today by A. De La Grange, secretary of the French Senate's air budget commission and president of the Aero Club.

In a signed article on the front page of the newspaper Le Journal, De La Grange appealed for the debt settlement to help France obtain credits in the United States for purchase of aircraft. He wrote:

"The strength of the German aviation industry is so superior to that of England and France combined that our security in event of war would depend on American industry."

"The moment is propitious to bring to the carpet the question of moderate payment of the war debts to avoid falling under the blow of the Johnson act."

$20,000 Blaze In Woburn Laid To Incendiary

A $20,000 fire today which destroyed a two-story wooden factory owned by the Haley Patent Leather Company, Woburn, was believed of incendiary origin, according to Chief Michael J. Kane. The plant has been idle recently.

Roaring flames fed by inflammable materials used in the plant kept firemen nearly 150 feet away from the building at the height of the fire.

Woburn and Winchester firemen threw a water curtain to protect the Porter Japanning and Peterson-Merrill Company factories across the street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doherty and an infant child were driven from their home about 50 feet from the fire.

Capone Ex-Aide Gets Gang Death

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—As Al Capone's chief brewmaster, Bert Delaney might have been considered a likely victim of the tough trigger men of prohibition days, but the killers passed him up.

Last night a gunman crept up behind Delaney, felled him with a shot, and sent three more bullets into his back as he lay on the sidewalk. The slaying was witnessed by Delaney's red-haired companion, Mrs. Ruth McAvoy, and her brother-in-law.

Police investigators theorized the slaying was the result of Delaney's reputed attempt to "muscle in" with a teamsters' union.

5 Found Dead By Suffocation

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 22 (AP)—Five members of one family were found dead in their flat today and Deputy Police Chief John J. Underwood said they died of lack of oxygen.

Underwood said Frank Cordi, 21, and two daughters were found in one bedroom, and Nancy, 27, his wife, and another daughter in an adjoining bedroom. The children were aged 9, 8 and 3.

Physicians explained the family died because a gas heater under a kitchen water boiler and two electric heaters in the flat had used up all the oxygen.

Ruth in, 'Wife' Barred

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (INS)—Mrs. Alma Alderman made an unsuccessful effort to visit Myrl Alderman in his hospital room, thus adding another to already multifarious complications of the Alderman-Edging-Snyder-Alderman case. Mrs. Alma Alderman claims she is with the wife of the man whom Martin Snyder shot.

Ruth Edging, former wife of Snyder, says she married Alderman in Mexico last July.

The first Mrs. Alderman is suing Miss Edging for $150,000 for alienation of affections, but says she would drop the suit if a reconciliation with her husband could be effected before their interlocutory divorce decree becomes effective in December.

Accompanying Mrs. Alma Alderman was her 11-months old daughter, Norma.

"We both owe it to the child to go back together again," she said.

Miss Edging has been almost constantly at Alderman's bedside since the shooting in her home. Physicians said he would likely be able to leave the hospital in 10 days.

Snyder, former manager and for 17 years the husband of Miss Edging, was still in jail in default of $50,000 bond. He will appear in court Monday.

ATTEMPTING to see former divorced husband who is now the mate of Ruth Edging, star singer, Mrs. Alma Alderman, holding daughter Suzanne in arms, is refused admittance to Los Angeles hospital where Myrl Alderman is recovering from shooting by Col. Martin Snyder, former husband of Miss Edging's.

That's the 'L' of It

Workmen today cut the "L" out of Wellesley while Republicans and Democrats alike chuckled.

The slicing was necessary after a banner erected by the Wellesley Republican town committee flew a banner across Wellesley square which read as follows: "W-e-l-l-e-s-l-e-y Wants Saltonstall and Cahill."

U. S. Seeks Details on Palestine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—State Department officials said today the United States expected Great Britain to give full information on any change contemplated in Palestine which might affect American rights and to refrain from making the change until this government has expressed its opinion.

The position of the United States was defined as embracing: Full determination to protect American rights in Palestine—no discrimination in business, property rights, educational institutions; generally, equality of treatment with all other foreigners.

Inability, under the Anglo-American mandate agreement of 1922, to block any change in Palestine's administration or composition, which did not affect American rights.

Sympathy with the idea of Jewish homeland in Palestine. Meanwhile, a deluge of telegrams continued to pour into the department. About 70,000 wire messages and hundreds of letters have been received since reports were first published that Britain might cede Palestine to Jewish emigration.

Most of the communications are from American Jews who ask no restriction on the number of Jews who may emigrate to Palestine and for the United States to intercede with Great Britain.

TOWER GETS STEAM BATH

A lot of Bostonians going to work downtown today were slightly dizzy after watching workmen steam-clean the top of Custom House tower, 560 feet above the street level. They are also "pointing up" the exterior, which means mortaring the crevices.

More N. E. Sweep Luck

Hubby Gone 8 Years, She Files Suit

Declaring she is tired of a husband she hasn't seen in eight years, Mrs. Peggy Lucille French of St. Luke's road, Allston, today filed suit for divorce in Suffolk probate court.

The dark-haired matron, who charges Albert K. French with desertion, was accompanied to court by her attorney, Edwin Connel-magna.

Mrs. French's marital troubles first made headlines in 1926 when she sued her father-in-law, Albert H. D. French, wealthy Malden realtor, charging alienation of affections. She was awarded $10,000, five years later, in her $50,000 action.

She said her husband is living in Grand Rapids, Mich., where he is employed as a postal clerk. The couple were married in Toledo, O., in 1925, and have an eight-year-old daughter, Peggy.

"I just don't feel free," Mrs. French stated.

"Although we have been separated now for eight years, I want the right to again go out with whom I please."

Peggy is attending school at Bar Harbor, Me.

Thou Shalt Not Kill ... Thou Shalt Not Covet Thy Neighbor's Wife ...

SIXTH COMMANDMENT

TENTH COMMANDMENT

MRS. PAUL WRIGHT

RUDOLPH SIKORA

Benes Arrives Ill in London

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Former President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, flying for the first time, arrived today in the country which gained European peace at the expense of the republic of which he was co-founder. He landed at Croydon Airport at noon, sick and tired, and motored immediately to a country retreat, where one of his intimates said he would rest for several months.

This statement was taken to mean the former President would not proceed to Chicago, where he will lecture at the University of Chicago, until after Christmas at least. Accompanying him were his wife and secretarial staff.

An intimate of his said "he is in pretty bad shape physically and what he needs in a few days is bed."

And Another Jury Draws the Line Between the Two

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.

"Thou shalt not kill," admonishes the sixth Commandment.

Rudolph Sikora, 28-year-old Chicago accountant, disobeyed and snuffed out the life of Edward Solomon.

But—
"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife," reads the tenth Commandment.

Edward Solomon disobeyed the wife was Sikora's.

Early today in a tense Chicago courtroom a jury drew the "justifiable" line between the two edicts and added another acquittal to the roster of "unwritten law" cases.

Sanctity and preservation of the home was upheld once more as Sikora, a weary smile on his face, walked out of court a free man. He won his freedom scarcely eight months after Paul Wright, Los Angeles air lines president, was pronounced not guilty of the murder of John Kimmel and his own wife, whom he surprised in a clandestine embrace in his own home.

SIMILAR CASE

In that case, too, the "unwritten law" was the underlying tempo. Wright was considered "within the law" when he shot Kimmel, his best friend, and his wife in a "white flash of hatred."

A wildly cheering throng acclaimed the Sikora verdict. Spectators screamed delight.

Sentiment of the jurors was expressed by the simple declaration of Russell Hornburg, foreman:

"We felt that he acted in a way that should protect the American home."

Margaret Sikora, 22, the wife, who aided the state, was emotionless. "I expected that verdict," she said. "The jury heard the evidence. They were the deciding factors."

Sikora was not a "white flash of hatred," but a slowly mounting tide of desperation that prompted him to shoot down Solomon to "save my wife's soul."

PLEAS UNAVAILING

His pleas to her and Solomon to end their affair were unavailing. Margaret Sikora admitted Rudolph was the "perfect husband," but scorned his love. Solomon was victoriously vitriolic, adding the final insult when he phoned Sikora and said:

"When I get tired of her I'll call you up and let you know—I'll give you that much satisfaction."

So Sikora, bowed by an unrequited love and wracked by worry for the wife, was a slowly mounting tide of desperation that prompted him to shoot down Solomon to "save my wife's soul."

At a busy Chicago intersection he pumped five bullets into Solomon's body and quietly gave himself up.

CALM IN COURT

He sat calmly in court. He said everything was blank after his wife's death. Sikora's final refusal to temporize. Even when Margaret, still unrelenting, testified against him, he failed to break. Wearily he heard his wife's mother come to his defense, tell of his mental travail. When the jury went out he showed no emotion.

"Thou shalt not kill," says the sixth Commandment.

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife," says the tenth Commandment.

"Not guilty," said the jury.

Offer 100 'Good Jobs' in Vain

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—One hundred $4500 a year jobs are going begging here.

They are vacancies on the teaching staffs of New York city vocational schools—and those with the technical training, enabling them to satisfy the high requirements apparently can make more in industry than the $4500 salaries offered.

The openings are in the teaching of the automotive, building, electrical, food, graphic arts, metal and needle trades.

Gem Robbery Loss Is Put at $70,500

Official inventory of the loss in the robbery of the Gordon Brothers store in Province street is $70,500, it was announced today.

First unofficial estimate was $100,000. Sixths of a famous jewelry robbery firm are in town and on the job.

Lashes Truth Of Spy Story

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)

The dull-eyed U. S. army deserter who confessed he betrayed his country to spy for Germany was left alone in his cell today to puzzle over an attack on his story implicating alleged co-conspirators in a plot to steal American military secrets.

With a baffled head-shake, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, 32, key witness for the Government, left the stand after being led into what another strange explanation of his conduct by defense Attorney Benjamin Matthews. The trial will be resumed on Monday.

Rumrich had told Matthews that he originally plotted to become a German spy so that he could "give the Government of the United States information about foreign spies said to infest the United States"—and thus clear his record as a deserter.

Q—When you deserted from the army, did your conscience bother you? A—I can't say it did.

Q—Did there ever come a time when you loved your country? A—Yes, when I really knew America.

(Rumrich was born in Chicago, but was reared abroad.)

Q—You deserted a wife, who was madly in love with you—a really charming woman—and a young son? A—Did.

Q—How did you come to read a book by Colonel Nicolai (war-time head of the German espionage system)? A—I came across it in the public library.

(Rumrich had previously testified that he became fascinated with the idea of becoming a spy, wrote a letter to a German newspaper offering to sell U. S. military secrets, and was subsequently enrolled as a Nazi agent.)

Rumrich said the only attempt he ever made to supply the German spy ring with any information of a "substantial nature" was when he tried to get 30 American passports to Russia for the use of German agents.

Rumrich named Fraulein Johanna ("Jenni") Holmann, 28, red-haired former beauty salon attendant on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, and Erich Glaeser, 28, former U. S. army private, as members of the spy ring.

A third defendant, Otto Hermann Voss, 38, former mechanic at the De Seversky airplane factory, has not been implicated by Rumrich's testimony.

WPA to Clean Up N. Y. for Big Fair

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Father "Knickerbocker" with the help of the WPA—is spending $21,400 to have his face lifted for the 1939 World's Fair here.

The federal government will foot 94 per cent of the bill. The job of cleaning up 15,000 vacant lots, draining swampy areas and landscaping city-owned land will be done by 24,900 WPA workers.

Princess Juliana Out, Wheels Baby

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 22 (AP)—Crown Princess Juliana, feeling much better after her recent indisposition, today wheeled Baby Princess Beatrix in the gardens at Leo Palace near Apeldoorn. Princess Juliana had been indisposed since October 14 when she cancelled plans for a visit to Scotland. She was ill with influenza in September.

Speed Wage Law Rulings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The wage-hour administration rushed work today on last minute explanations of how industry should comply with the most far-reaching attempt to put a floor under wages and a ceiling over hours since the days of the NRA.

Administrator Elmer F. Andrews said he hoped to announce by nightfall the kind of records employers should keep to show conformity with the new law, effective Monday.

A general interpretation of the act will be released for publication tomorrow morning.

In a further attempt to clarify public understanding of the measure, Andrews will make a series of radio broadcasts tomorrow afternoon. He said he would attempt to answer as many as possible of the general questions asked by business men in the last few days.

44-HOUR STARTS MONDAY

Hundreds of thousands of wage-earners completed today their last week of unregulated employment. When they return to their jobs Monday, a pay rate of 25 cents an hour will have become the legal minimum for all who produce goods going into interstate commerce or whose work, in the words of a recent Supreme Court decision, places a "burden" upon interstate commerce.

Their standard work week will be 44 hours, with compensation at the rate of time and one-half for each hour of overtime.

It also will have become illegal to employ in mining or manufacturing industries anyone under 16 years of age or to employ in an industry officially declared to be "hazardous" any person less than 18.

Children between 14 and 16 may be given limited employment in non-mining and non-manufacturing industries.

MANY COMPLICATIONS

The law is complicated by a great variety of special exemptions which

Andrews has attempted to clarify. He has refrained from applying these rulings to any particular industry, explaining that each employer must decide for himself whether his business comes under the ruling.

An employer may, however, appeal to the administration for guidance.

Wage-hour officials pointed out that the courts rather than the administrator constitute the final authority on the act.

Notes of Plunge Actress Found literary and social circles as well as Washington officialdom were profoundly shaken by the death of beautiful Mrs. Hale.

Works Progress Administrator Hopkins was in seclusion at Hyde Park, the temporary White House. He had been seen frequently in the company of Mrs. Hale during the past six months but reports of their acquaintance had been denied.

NOTE ABSOLVES ALL

In the note to her sister, Mrs. Hale "absolved every one" of any blame in connection with her death, police said. She told her sister to take her two fur coats out of storage and to take charge of a bank account in which she had several hundred dollars. Text of the note was not revealed.

In the luxurious little apartment from which she plunged to her death there were the remnants of the gay cocktail party at which she had entertained Thursday night in honor of Lawrence A. Steinhardt, United States Minister to Peru. Three empty bottles that once held vodka, wine and whiskey were on a side table, together with six empty glasses and small ice bucket.

"She was in excellent spirits and not the least depressed," Margaret Case, an editor of Vogue magazine and one of her close friends who attended the cocktail party, said today.

Another intimate friend, playwright Clare Boothe Luce, wife of millionaire editor Henry Luce, also attended the party. The author of "The Women" and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye" was equally sympathetic that Mrs. Hale had seemed happy and extremely cheerful at the small cocktail party.

Wellesley Man

Dying After Crash

FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 22—John F. Gauthier, 23, of Donazette street, Wellesley, was dying in Framingham hospital today as a result of an auto crash in West Union street, Ashland.

According to police, Gauthier was driving from Hopkinton to his home when his car swerved from the road and crashed into a tree. William O. Hewitt, 26, of Thomas road, Wellesley, who was trailing the Gauthier car, took the victim to the hospital.

Scandal Forces Shakeup in WPA

(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (INS)—A nationwide shake-up in the administration of the WPA, immediately after the November elections, was foreseen in New Deal circles today as an aftermath to fresh relief scandals which brought wholesale indictments in New Jersey and New Mexico.

The shake-up will be followed by a slashing of relief rolls.

The WPA indictments in New Jersey and New Mexico have convinced high New Dealers they must "put their house in order" before Congress reconvenes in January.

They propose to do this housecleaning immediately after the elections, in the hope of avoiding congressional action to place administration of relief in the hands of a non-partisan agency.

One prominent New Dealer told International News Service:

"We must reform the whole WPA setup and take it out of politics or Congress will do it for us."

WPA Administrator Harry C. Hopkins was pictured as having devoted his nation-wide tour to a personal inspection of the relief setup.

New Dealers said Hopkins personally investigated relief scandal charges in a score of states and returned East convinced there must be a wholesale shake-up in its administration.

The administration also has decided to slash relief rolls after the election. This step is anticipated on the ground private employment will pick up during the winter months.

Franco Air Raiders Bomb Catalonia

BIENAYE, France, Oct. 22 (AP)—Spanish insurgent air raiders concentrated their bombs on Catalonia today, apparently in a curtain raiser to a long-delayed offensive.

A series of attacks, which began in Barcelona Thursday night with five raids taking at least 24 victims, spread yesterday to Tarragona and Valencia.

Ex-Chess Champion Gets His Queen

ELKTON, Md., Oct. 22 (INS)—The marriage of Jose Capablanca, Cuban, former world's chess champion, and the former Russian Princess Olga Chagolada of New York and Paris, where a justice of the peace revealed today.

Accompanied by Eugene Castillo, Cuban consul at Baltimore, and David Naenais, of the Cuban bureau of consular revenue, New York, they drove from New York City to Elkton, where a justice of the peace performed the ceremony.

After the marriage, a wedding supper was held at the Baltimore home of A. W. Donegan, former member of the U. S. consular service in Cuba, then returned to New York for their honeymoon.

The bride had been living in various European countries after fleeing Russia during the post world war revolt, until five years ago, when she came to this country. She and Capablanca met four years ago.

Return Kidnap Suspect Here

Word was received at the federal building today that Anthony Farschuk, sought for two years as the alleged kidnaper of a Lawrence taxicab driver, was on his way to Boston from St. Paul, Minn., for arraignment.

He was indicted in 1936 with Jack Benson, Michigan ex-convict, and Mrs. Rhea Benson, the latter's wife, on a charge of having kidnaped Roland Robichaud, Lawrence, in his cab, and forcing him to drive them to Independence, Mo.

Benson was sentenced to 10 years on the kidnaping indictment. His wife was placed on probation. Farschuk will arrive here Monday in custody of a deputy U. S. marshal.

Ford to Employ 80,000 Workers

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (INS)—Calling men back to work steadily, the Ford Motor Company will have nearly 80,000 men working in its River Rouge home plant by the end of next week, personnel director Harry Bennett said today.

This re-employment would bring the total employment at the Rouge plant to within 10,000 of capacity.

Briggs Quits In Woods Row

WORCESTER, Oct. 22—Charles Dwight Briggs, under fire by the people of his home town of Princeton, has resigned as secretary of the Mt. Wachusett State Reservation Commission.

They said he was slow in helping them get hurricane-felled timber out of the forest.

Accepting the resignation, Chairman Patrick J. Moynihan promised that with reorganization next week, the commission would move rapidly to reduce fire hazards. Briggs said he was moving out to stop criticism and dissension.

Favorable action on a proposed addition to the Chelsea Soldiers' Home loomed today following a State House vote at which no protesting voice was raised.

Lord Dawson Says King's Health Fine; Lauds Harvard

King George VI of England is in "excellent health," his personal physician, Lord Dawson of Penn, told reporters today, prior to his departure for New York.

The noted English physician, who also was physician to the late King George V, greeted old Boston friends during a short stay at the Copley Plaza Hotel.

Lord Dawson refused to comment on European affairs and declared his visit to America was possible only because of the exceedingly fine health of his monarch.

"I had four weeks to myself so I decided to come to America. When I arrived in New York I discovered that there was a meeting of the American College of Surgeons, and recalling that I was a honorary fellow, I went right in and felt very much at home."

"I then came here to visit Harvard. Although there are several schools doing fine work in physical education, Harvard's excels them all."

Take Politics Out of Relief

Citizens, before you vote, ask these questions of all candidates for Congress:

"Do you stand for the principle that there must be no political control or influence in the handling of relief funds, pump-priming money, agricultural benefit money or social security money?

"Do you favor the principle of having all such public expenditures supervised by a non-partisan, non-political board employing civil service personnel?

"Do you pledge yourself to work for the proper measures to put these principles into practical operation?"

Kelly Groups Back Curley

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Back from a tour of western Massachusetts, former Governor James M. Curley, today reported "definite assurance" of support in his campaign for governor from groups who had supported Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly in the primary.

Kelly groups in Springfield and Chicopee conferred with the former governor during the three-day tour and told him the Kelly workers were "on the line" in a move for party unity at the election, November 8.

Because the lieutenant governor carried both those cities and several other communities in the four western counties, the development was considered a good sign in favor of the party unity theme that was paramount throughout the western sector with all of the candidates on the Democratic ticket.

GETS FARLEY O. K.

Official "O. K." of the national administration by Postmaster General James A. Farley, who is also chairman of the Democratic national committee, also came to the Curley forces today.

Curley combined his Boston visit to the 1938-39 state dinner of the Democrats tomorrow night with a visit to his daughter, Betty, ill at the Wellesley College infirmary.

Farley will be with, and reports he came to me from Massachusetts indicate that we will have a great Democratic victory here," Farley said.

He withheld further comment on political views in deference to the state committee in charge of the Sunday banquet.

FLOOD CONTROL ISSUE

Curley left with the western counties the thought that the only solution of its flood and industry problem was election of the entire state Democratic ticket.

Curley was reinforced in his plea by James H. Brennan, nominee for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Katherine Foley, candidate for secretary of state; State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley and Attorney General Paul A. Dever, candidate for re-election; and Owen Gallagher, the party nominee for treasurer.

In a special broadcast from Springfield, Auditor Buckley pointed to his record of special investigations as well as regular audits against "the claim of my opponent that the office can be conducted with a minimum of training and experience."

URGES SOLID VOTE

Buckley, as did all members of the entire ticket, urged a solid Democratic vote as the only solution of the problems that confront Massachusetts.

Mayor Roger Lowell Putnam of Springfield, a relative of the Boston family of Lowells, and one of the outstanding "Yankee" Democrats in the state, has been selected to preside at the Democratic dinner in the Copley Plaza tomorrow night.

The dinner is more or less a test of the attitude of leading Democrats defeated in the primary by Curley—Governor Hurley, Lieutenant Governor Kelly and former Congressman Richard M. Russell.

McNamara Hits Landis Blast At Plan E Foes

City Council President Thomas M. McNamara of Cambridge today assailed as an "utter disregard for the truth" the Plan E radio address of Dean James M. Landis of Harvard law school.

"Dean Landis," said McNamara, "displayed utter disregard for the truth in his unwarranted attack on the Cambridge City Council in his broadcast."

In his discussion of the proposed new system of municipal government for the University City, Dean Landis, speaking from Washington, accused the councilmen of raising "a smoke screen of prejudice, cheap politics and falsehoods."

He declared that the only real opponents to the system were types such as Boss Cox of Cincinnati, Pendergast of Missouri and Tammany Hall in New York.

GOP In Essex Barbecue

Rejoined by Leverett Saltonstall, party standard bearer, the Republican caravan will wind up a busy week today with a barbecue at Topsfield fair grounds, heralded as the biggest ever held in Essex county.

Meanwhile, Saltonstall in radio addresses and at rallies at Brockton, Quincy and Weymouth urged election of a governor who would "observe strictly the principle of morality in government."

"I know I will be elected governor of Massachusetts on November 8," Saltonstall declared, "because the people know I keep my word, and that I am pledged to honest service in every department of government."

"As governor, I shall demand flood control that will adequately safeguard our people, homes and industries. I shall co-operate in every possible way with the federal government."

Saltonstall also urged a boycott on Japanese goods, and a tariff to place Massachusetts laborers on a fair competitive basis with "sweat shop Japanese."

"In addition to economic factors," Saltonstall stated, "there are strong moral grounds on which we should refuse to trade with Japan. That nation, in defiance of treaties, is engaged upon armed conquest of China, a country with which we have always had close business and cultural ties."

"The Japanese are carrying on the conquest brutally, with cruel disregard for the rights of women, children and non-combatants."

State May Take Over Town Bankrupt by Hurricane

SAVOY, Oct. 22.—This tiny town, with two-thirds of its territory already in state reservations, today appeared headed for state administration.

With but valuation of $150,000 and a sufferer of $200,000 in hurricane damage, town officials notified the state department of public works they have no money to pay $1350 in outstanding bills.

If action should be taken by act of the legislature, Savoy would join Fall River, Mashpee and Milville

Election Board Called to Court

The entire membership of the Cambridge Election Commission today was summoned before the Supreme court next Friday in an action brought by Frederic B. Dailey, Harvard Law School student, who was refused voting rights in Cambridge.

The commissioners are C. Brendon Noonan, chairman; Harry Pennington, Francis McDonald and Clarence P. Kilder.

Dailey, who lives in Chancey street, maintains he has been a resident at that address for six months prior to October 1. When refused the right to register he sought a reversal of the commission's action through a writ of mandamus.

Both Parties Smart Under Tobin Lash

Republicans and Democrats both smarted today under charges by Mayor Tobin that they had "fed the public sugar-coated pills" in the platform adopted for the coming state election.

Speaking before the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers, the mayor declared both parties had dodged the realities and told the public what it would like to believe, instead of the truth. He said they should have been given facts, no matter how much they hurt.

'Swing' Fest Headed for Garden Finale

The cast is completed, the stage set, the setting beautified and the famed artists of dance and music waiting—

For the Fall Frolics of 1938, Monday night's history-making Boston American Christmas Basket Fund charity festival at Boston Garden. All is in readiness for the dramatic appearance of "Killer-Diller" Benny Goodman and his rhythm-mad swingsters, for Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees, masters of melody, and Harry Marsh and his versatile society favorites in:

That "Swing vs. Straight" battle of music, the talk of the country. There'll be swing at its wildest and there'll be straight at its sweetest. And there'll be everything to please both the alligator and the longhair.

JITTERBUGS, TOO

But then there'll be the jitterbugs. And these rug-cutters will be sensations.

Jitterbugs are the most modern, most agile, most enduring dancers and acrobats in dance annals.

They fashion their own dance patterns. They improvise, they solo, they work themselves into jungle-inspired fury.

But they are proficient and they love swing. And the result will be thrills both to them as participants, showing off before a mammoth gallery, and to the many conservative spectators who of late have yet to view the new "jive" generation in action.

ALL WALKS OF LIFE

From 7 p. m. to 2 a. m. a steady parade of color, of music and dance pagentry will be presented at the huge Garden surface.

Jit Tickets Still on Sale

General admission tickets continue on sale for Monday night's Fall Frolics at Boston Garden.

These tickets priced at $1 (tax included) may be obtained at Boston Garden, Boston Arena and the Travel Bureau of Jordan Marsh Company.

They entitle to all the seven hours of music and dance merriment and entertainment, including the friendly battle of "Swing vs. Straight" between the orchestras of Benny Goodman, Rudy Vallee and Harry Marsh, the New England jitterbug championships, the many specialty features and the general dancing.

Please do not apply for seats or send money to the Boston American.

and screen, personages high in public and private walks of life, will be found among the audience. Interested spectators of a colorful, spectacular carnival of music and entertainment such as this section of the nation has never before witnessed.

This is to be a night of fun and frolic, with a most worthy charitable cause becoming the common leveler, so that the lowliest jitterbug will co-star on the program with world-renowned actors of the theater.

Vallee and Goodman will introduce many specialty performers, male and female singers and dancers, rated five-star in radio and stage circles.

Guest stars add space and glamour to the already thrill-packed program.

Boston's many legitimate theaters are cooperating wholeheartedly, unselfishly and voluntarily, towards providing the finest, the best artists, for the Fall Frolics.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

To outline the entire program would be well nigh impossible at this writing.

But the one and only OFFICIAL program, a souvenir of the occasion will be published in Monday's Boston American.

This program will be well worth carrying to Boston Garden with you. It will detail each and every actor in the ever-changing scene. It will list names and numbers of the championship jitterbug contenders.

It will be the key to the grandest night of dance and music ever.

Bay State Timber Removal Is Fast

'Jive' List Complete

Monday night's New England championship jitterbug field has been completed. The lists are closed, with close to 60 shag-happy 'jive' teams waiting the Boston Garden bell which sends them into action.

The winning team will open an immediate week's engagement at Club Mayfair, Boston's smart night club, where Owner Benny Ginsberg has a contract calling for $350 awaiting them.

Second and third teams will likewise be offered lucrative Club Mayfair contracts for the same week.

Hankow Bombed By Jap Airmen

den assault on the Bocca Tigris forts.

At dawn today 27 Japanese war planes raided Hankow, clearing a path for the ground attack that is soon to strike.

The planes rained bombs on the Chinese "Chicago," concentrating particularly on the city's railway station.

CANTON "INFERNO"

Reports from Hankow said the departure of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who went to Changsha, and of his wife, who went to Chungking, was kept secret in the threatened city.

The Japanese vanguard which entered Canton yesterday remained inside the outskirts of the fallen city. The formal triumphal entry will be carried out, Japanese authorities explained, when the main body of the Nipponese forces catches up with the motorized troops who penetrated Canton's limits yesterday.

Canton presented a tragic scene reminiscent of Dante's Inferno.

Thousands of homeless persons wandered, dazed, through the once proud and populous metropolis. Hundreds huddled dejectedly beside their meager belongings. Scores of dead and maimed civilians lay in the streets, victims of air raids that preceded the final surrender without a struggle.

1000 PRISONERS FREED

Eye-witnesses said hundreds of wounded were turned out of hospitals as the medical staffs fled. Many roomed in the barren streets, crying for food and water.

Canton's defenders blew up many public buildings, including a prison from which 1000 inmates were liberated.

Observers in Canton said the only resistance was offered by a single Chinese mechanized unit, which held up the Japanese advance a few minutes, then was wiped out.

Today a Japanese fleet headed up the Pearl river, evidently intent upon attacking the famed Bocca Tigris forts, should any evidence of resistance be found there.

HANKOW DOOMED

Hankow military situation was reported hourly growing more desperate. Japanese naval and land forces each progressed within 40 miles of the city, and it was believed it could not hold out more than a day or two.

All important Chinese officials have left, including the commander of Hankow's defense forces, General Chen-Chen. A little known Chinese officer, General Kuo-Chang, was left in charge.

Officials Ordered To Leave Hankow

HANKOW, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chinese officials and their families were ordered to evacuate Hankow today as the Japanese drove steadily toward the provisional capital.

The exodus of civilians already was taxing transportation facilities to capacity.

Yangtze river steamers were packed to the gunwales. Latecomers were forced to scramble up the sides and hang on the rails.

The whole waterfront area was teeming with women, children and old men and their belongings, waiting vessels which may not depart for 48 hours.

Japs' Celebration Shell Fires U. S. Navy Plane

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22 (INS)—Pom-pom shells fired from anti-aircraft batteries by Japanese soldiers celebrating the fall of Canton today set fire to an airplane aboard the United States heavy cruiser Augusta. The plane was badly damaged before sailors extinguished the flames.

Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, chief of the American Asiatic fleet, protested against the "promiscuity" of the Japanese gun-fire.

As a result, Japanese naval authorities ordered cessation of pyrotechnics from the Nipponese flagship Idzuma and all other Japanese war vessels.

Japs Warn British Ships to Quit Hankow

HANKOW, Oct. 22 (INS)—Japanese authorities delivered an "ultimatum" today to commanders of British warships here to leave Yangtze river waters in the vicinity of Hankow by midnight.

The Japanese announced they intended to launch a "relentless" aerial bombing attack against Hankow at that hour unless it surrenders.

Kai-Shek, Wife Still In Hankow, Is Report

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Reuters (British news agency) reported today in a dispatch from Hankow that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Mme. Chiang still were in Hankow.

The same agency reported yesterday from Hongkong that the generalissimo had left Hankow for Changsha, 200 miles airline to the south.

Czecho, Hungary Mass Troops

UZHOROD, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of Czechoslovak troops were ready for action along the Hungarian border today, but the general feeling among them was that Hungary would not resort to military action to enforce her territorial demands.

One authoritative source estimated 750,000 Czechoslovak soldiers probably were concentrated along the frontier from Komarno deep into Ruthenia.

Dispatches from Biala, Gyarmat, on the Hungarian side of the border, said nearly half a million Hungarian troops faced Czechoslovakia.

12 Hungarians Die In Clash With Czechs

PRAGUE, Oct. 22 (AP)—The general staff reported today the killing of 12 Hungarian terrorists and one Czech gendarme during fighting near Berehovo in Southern Slovakia.

It declared Czechoslovak troops captured a number of other alleged Hungarian terrorists, seized their arms and ammunition, and surrounded eight persons who made up the remainder of a band operating around Hunyadi, near Berehovo.

Its communique also reported that terrorists firing from ambush had wounded two Czech gendarmes at Perechrestina, in the district of Svalava.

BIRTH of a child is expected early in spring, Maureen O'Sullivan of the films announced today. She is wife of John Farrow, writer and director.

Nazi Paper Cites Priests' Favor

VIENNA, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Vienna edition of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Munich newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, today published a manifesto bearing the purported signatures of several hundred priests in all parts of German Austria which promised "unswerving loyalty to the people, the Reich and the Fuehrer."

The manifesto was an endorsement of the October 13 speech of Joseph Buerckel, Nazi commissioner for Austria, in which, with Hitler's sanction, he attacked the Austrian Catholic hierarchy for what he called "attacks against the National Socialist party and Adolf Hitler."

English '27 Class Reunion Thursday

English high school class of '27 will hold its 11th annual reunion at the high school cafeteria next Thursday evening.

Huge Jap Bribe Wins Canton

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Oct. 22—With the fall of Canton—said to be due to treason of General Yu Han-Mou of the Chinese high command—and collapse of resistance before Hankow, influential diplomatic quarters today predicted that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek would temporarily "disappear" from the Chinese scene as a prelude to a possible truce.

During Chiang's absence, Britain, France, and other major powers will make a strong effort to arrange an armistice.

It was believed Japan would agree to cessation of hostilities, since Nippon has consistently asserted that Chiang's presence as head of the Chinese nationalist government was the only barrier to Gen. Yu Han-Mou peace talks.

FLIES TO SEE BRITAIN

Following the truce, according to this reported arrangement, Chiang would be allowed to "reappear," probably after several months. He has already left Hankow, which faces speedy capture, for the interior Yangtze valley.

Reports from Hongkong said Chiang Kai-shek was on his way by air to the British crown colony to meet Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, ambassador from London, to discuss a possible basis for peace negotiations.

At the same time, said the Hongkong advices, a conservative Chinese element is demanding

Chiang's removal.

There were reports that General Yu Han-Mou, in charge of the Kwangtung armies at Canton, yielded to an immense bribe, and British circles were firmly convinced the Japanese surge into the southern metropolis was the result of treason in the Chinese high command.

The market worked higher today as aviation soared to new heights. Gains of fractions to 3 points predominated in active dealings.

10-11—The market opened at a fast rate. Good-sized blocks of stock appeared at advancing prices. Aviation climbed higher under the leadership of Douglas. The steel and well while metals were a bit mixed. Chemicals were slow to appear and supplied the only sell note of the day. Copper was cheering but groups did nothing. The electrical equipments were in demand and Westinghouse moved up to 121. The financial district was in an optimistic mood and seemed to have forgotten its usual Saturday caution. Realizing it had no time to time but it had no appreciable effect. The market spurted ahead in snappy fashion. The market was strong at hours end. Volume 500,000 shares.

11—Prices continued on the road to higher levels. Even the slightly backward groups made up for earlier losses. The mail order issues shook off recent drizzle.

Wool Prices Move Higher in Boston

Trade in wool on the Boston market this week was not as broad as in the previous week but fair weight of a few lines were sold at mostly firm to advanced prices. Twelve month Texas wools moved at advanced prices. Fine territory wools in original bales were mostly firm and fairly active. Scattered sales of graded territory wools were closed at firm prices.

Haney Tells Questioners The 'Whys'

By LEWIS HANEY
Special to Boston Evening American
NEW YORK, Oct. 22—A group of readers in Los Angeles seems to be trying to put me on the spot. Certainly I am asked a series of questions which covers the situation!

1. "The press is screaming 'good times'; but most business is below the 1937 level. You must note the current trend is upward, while in 1937 it was downward."

2. "What year would you select as being normal?"
Answer: I don't know. What do you mean by "normal"? You may mean a condition of equilibrium and balance in economic life, or you may mean a certain statistical level of activity.

3. "If you mean, as most statisticians do, a level of business activity which rises as population grows and standards of living become higher, then we are very far below 'normal.' We are far behind the statistical schedule of 'progress.'"

4. "Is 1938 a better year than 1937?"
Answer: The level of business activity in 1938 has averaged far below 1937, and doubtless the same will be true of business profits.

5. "Was 1937 a year of depression?"
Answer: The peak of a boom came about March. Thereafter, 1937 was a year of recession which reached depression levels at the end.

6. "Isn't it reasonable to think that after such tremendous federal appropriations 1938 should have far exceeded 1937? What can we expect of 1939?"
Answer: If you think that (1) Messrs. Roosevelt, Hopkins, Ickes, and Wallace know how to run the nation's business, and that (2) spending paper money based on growing public debt will enable them to run it, you may figure that way.

7. "I don't believe either of these things, therefore, I expect no real prosperity while the present game of economic bluffing men are able to purchase our votes."

8. "How long can this sort of thing last? Whither are we headed?"
Answer: It will last until we, the people, become so disillusioned and disgusted that we will kick the crackpots out.

9. "How long can this sort of thing last? Whither are we headed?"
Answer: It will last until we, the people, become so disillusioned and disgusted that we will kick the crackpots out.

Treasury Experts Confer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A conference of treasury monetary advisers stirred speculation today on whether any change in government's international financial policy was contemplated.

The only official word regarding the meeting was an announcement by a spokesman for Secretary Morgenthau that the continued weakness of the British pound and the French franc were among the matters discussed. He declined to disclose what, if any, conclusions were reached.

Among those who attended the meeting yesterday were E. A. Goldenweiser, senior economist of the Federal Reserve Board; W. R. Burgess, New York banker; Dr. Herbert Fein, economic advisor of the State Department; Wayne C. Taylor, fiscal assistant secretary of the Treasury; Dr. Jacob Viner of the University of Chicago, special monetary advisor of the Treasury; Archie Lockhead, manager of the monetary stabilization fund; and Dr. Harry D. White, director of the Treasury's monetary research division.

ALLSTATE INSURANCE

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (INS)—Gilbert Alexander has been elected president of Allstate Insurance Co., and Allstate Fire Insurance Co. It was announced today that both companies are subsidiaries of Sears, Roebuck & Co. Mr. Alexander, a member of the Sears staff, succeeds Carl L. Odell, resigned.

N. E. Business Shows Upturn

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
(Financial Editor)

Business conditions in the New England area improved quietly in the past week. There was nothing particularly noteworthy but gains were well spread out and showed commendable consistency.

Retail trade picked up slightly but the weather was a slowing factor. Textiles in general did fairly well, shoe and leather conditions were about steady and agricultural reports highly mixed as a result of storm damage.

We would say that of all local industries cotton textiles were faring best. There has been a good demand for finished goods and a moderate uptrend in volume is reported by Dun & Bradstreet. The mill outlook may be considered as favorable.

Woolen and worsted textile prospects are brighter. Manufacturers and top makers report volume in expanding and one light Boston house is said to have been an aggressive buyer in the New York top market towards the end of the week.

The stock averages which hold the bulk of trader and technician attention are now moving in what appears to be a "line" formation. With the intermediate and long term trend considered as definitely upward the confusion which follows such a development centers around the minor course of prices.

On such a premise there is nothing particularly alarming in the formation. And there need not be unless it covers a long period of weeks.

Trying to outguess a line formation is dangerous business and we are going to avoid doing so. But there is nothing to be lost in considering the probable implications and likely aftermath.

The rush of prices toward new highs has been so excited that a reaction is apparently needed. However, since owners of stock show no disposition to liquidate trader profit taking is not enough to start the price downslide. Especially with so many stocks waiting to get in on every dip.

With the sidewise movement forced under such conditions the question arises as to the direction of the ultimate break out.

We think that a steady accumulation of good news will soon build up enough buying enthusiasm to take them on the upside. Sooner or later buyers become impatient; which probably accounts for the fact few bull market highs from an intermediate standpoint, ever develop from line formations. The great exception was the reputed German liquidation prior to the Great War.

CONSTRUCTION LED WAY

This year building revival got a head start on motor manufacturers. Home construction started to climb last spring and has been going up since.

The Associated Press index of residential construction has about doubled on the rise this year at 81.2 as compared with 38.7 a year ago.

With orders for new cars pouring into Detroit, assembly lines were speeded up more than was expected.

The Associated Press index of motor output, making allowance for seasonal fluctuations, jumped to 48.9 from 37 the previous week. Still it was far behind the 1937 figure of 162.

INDEX MOVES UP

The general index of industrial activity moved up to 80.5, compared with 78.7 the preceding week and 64.4 a year ago.

The stock market, after a 12,000,000 rebound from the September lows in about three weeks, rallied around in a narrow range. Some issues extended advances. Rail securities attracted buying on evidence of September improvement in rail finances and further traffic expansion.

Motor shares were among the stocks making new 1938 highs. Commodities and meat bonds also rocked back and forth.

Boston & Maine 1939 Loss Estimate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (INS)—Boston & Maine R. R. will operate at a loss of $2,697,746 this year and the State Department in 1939 according to an estimate in its application for a $1,500,000 RFC loan filed late yesterday with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The statement predicts a profit for the road in each of the final 1938 months and in all 1939 months except January, February and March.

PWA CASH LOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Public Works officials said today they had only about $25,000,000 left for loans and grants under the 1938 program.

Jeanette MacDonald Starts Film Soon

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Malton City Editor, International News Service
Copyright 1933, by International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22 — Jeanette MacDonald, after three weeks in the hospital, is getting her strength back and she and her favorite boy friend, Gene Raymond, leave for Palm Springs in a few days for her complete recuperation and to get in readiness for "Remember Tomorrow," starting November 15.

You might be surprised if you knew that Jeanette MacDonald, who has postponed her return to the screen to get her strength back, is now under way. Jeanette will sing only a song or two in this modern story.

Louella O. Parsons

Margo and Francis Lederer spent their first wedding anniversary at Channel Island, a couple of days ago. The couple of them, the first trip was on the nature of a vacation, but before they head for New York, Francis is to appear on Broadway in "King With Umbrella" and Margo to be in "The King's Ransom" in the New York City.

Johnny Baker is to appear in the second of a series of "A" high "C" as the juvenile lead in the next mad Marx comic "A Day at the Circus." Making love to a girl in a Marx picture may not be the most romantic way to develop an actor's career, but when Johnny plays his first role, it will be a comedy.

On the day that "The Day at the Circus" with the Marxmen made previously.

A Line or Two — The Marxmen walked out of their M-G-M contract only to walk right in to the old lot for their first job as a free lance. A good role in Jeanette MacDonald's next.

Snapshots of Hollywood

Flourish, George is wearing a new suit, and the new one is not long until she is being a star in a new film. There is a strong rumor that Willa Patten is to be in a new film. Margo Evans has let her hair go two or three shades darker and it is very becoming.

Margaret Lindsay had to leave the set and go home to nurse the baby.

Ballet Star Offered Role

Tamara Tumanova, leading ballerina of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, which opens a week's engagement at the Boston Opera House beginning November 1, is being considered for a part in the forthcoming Dwight Dennen Woman show, "Swing to the Left."

First, however, she must get a release from the ballet troupe, which had contracted with her to accompany them on a tour including Australia.

Another possibility for the new J. P. McEvoy-Arthur Schwartz musical is Paramount's Eleanor Whitely.

Shirley Temple So Station Star

Little Shirley Temple, who does some pretty fancy embroidery on the set to the music of Henry King's Orchestra this week at South Station Theater, is being named as Sonja Henie's successor.

Mr. Virginia House is also fighting a bad cold. Katharine De Mille and Anthony Quinn are supposed to find a house with an airy nursery. Bob Burns has finally committed himself to Honolulu and will vacation there as soon as he makes a personal appearance in San Francisco during that week's first day of the festival.

Jack Benny won't tell us how he lost those ten pounds. Lu Miranda is pulling a Gripe and refusing to give her phone number, even to the studio. When M-G-M wants to contact La Cava they have to call a friend, Professor and Mrs. Reinhardt are asking a few friends to see "Sister Beatrice" Monday at the Reinhardt workshop. That's all for today. See you Monday!

Burns Film On Twin Bills

The S. Alay and Modern screens this week are showing "The Arkansas Traveler" with Bob Burns, and "The King of Alcatraz" featuring Lloyd Nolan. "The Arkansas Traveler" is a comedy starring Bob Burns, and "The King of Alcatraz" is a drama starring Lloyd Nolan.

"The Arkansas Traveler" first of a series planned by Paramount for its home-spin star, discovers that Bob Burns is a better actor than the story itself. The story doesn't give him much help, for its situations are routine and its dialogue is a little flat. But Burns has a better break than this from his studio.

"That Arkansas Traveler" is largely put over by the charm and naturalness of its performers, notably Burns, Ray Hamilton, Jean Parker, Fulton Hill, Lake Talbot and Irvin S. Cobb.

The companion picture, "King of Alcatraz," is generous with thrills.

REMOVE THE STRING!

The Editor Says: The artist's powerful cartoon concerns ALL AMERICANS, particularly those millions of Americans who will vote in the November 3 elections.

The nation is disgusted with the practice of playing politics with poverty and misery.

The nation insists that every hungry person be fed, every homeless person be sheltered and every destitute person be clothed.

The nation also insists that the test of every deserving person's right to share these benefits be his actual need and NOT HIS BRAND OF POLITICS.

Let every candidate say TODAY whether he will vote to take relief out of politics, or whether he will tolerate the further capitalization of human misery by politicians.

Let every candidate tell us NOW where he intends to stand on the misuse of the people's money by political bureaucrats for selfish political advantage.

And let EVERY PERSON who wants relief separated from politics VOPE TO ELECT CONGRESSMEN AND SENATORS PLEDGED TO TAKE RELIEF OUT OF POLITICS.

PRIVATE CHARITY declines as taxes go up. Every new levy that is made on private, industrial and corporate income, every new tax on inheritance moneys, is a blow aimed at hospitals, colleges, religious institutions, and even at the health and welfare of our citizens.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, brilliant president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, recognizes this danger and calls attention to it. He says:

The sources which have hitherto principally supported research in this country are rapidly becoming less able to support it. Therefore, research must diminish, which would soon only intensify the present national difficulties, or new sources of support must be found.

It is common sense to realize that every dollar the tax collector takes is a dollar colleges like "Tech" and Harvard will not get.

This means ultimately, defilement by political influences and corruption of those activities that should be kept the purest in our society.

BOSTON PATROLMEN may now "talk back"; receiving and sending radio sets in seventy-five squad cars make it possible for officers to be in constant communication with police headquarters.

Obviously, this is an important and necessary contribution to public safety.

Police have a definite advantage over the criminal, permits reasons made instantaneously when every second counts, and allows the department to function as a powerful unit.

In the age of organized crime, law-breakers equipping themselves with the most potent weapons and the fastest automobiles, those that protect society cannot be handicapped. More than ever before, speed, efficiency and effectiveness depend on their ability to be SUPERIOR to the criminal.

WISE WEBSTER announces a practical plan to reduce Halloween vandalism. Other towns and cities would do well to borrow.

The Webster Lions Club, co-operating with Police Chief John C. Templeman, will entertain two thousand children at a monster party and vaudeville program.

Property owners and thoughtless destruction of property cost Massachusetts thousands of dollars each year. And the deplorable thing about it all is that few young people save possibly an occasional group of hoodlums, ever have a really good time.

Let us have more parties like Webster's.

The Human Side of the News

Brave Men Do Crochet

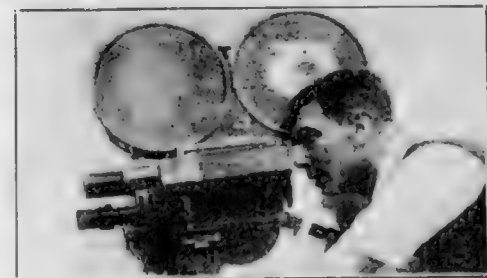

By EDWIN C. HILL

Copyright 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
RAYOR RALPH C. MINYON, 41, of Independence, Kan., brings his crocheting to New York and is found by the reporters coming off a rose and pappy mission for a belated. He says Harry Woodring, Secretary of War, is a tatter, which he inspires to do right for those who like it. He adds: "We crocheters think a man who tuts is a goss."

As to Mr. Mitchell, he says: "I have a hobby. He pulled up his trousers leg and showed the reporters some lion hoes. Then he pined his fast slippers to the puffs of his pipe a way to has, and discussed on his art. He thinks businessmen should take up crocheting, to keep them busy and make them forget their troubles."

IF THIS PIECE should be read by any old-timer around the place, Michigan, or Saint Ste Marie, I wish he would let me know what became of all Captain Ryerson, big-hand-and-souper of the Great Lakes, and what of Jack Demsey of all free-state crocheters, bar none. I am afraid he is long gone, now one of the last of his youthful heroes.

He was, truly, barrel-chested and profane, with a bellows like the Queen Mary's fog whistle, and he used to kick his lumbering, old hog-back through a hell's worth of wind and water and black night, with a roaring sea nothing less than Gargantuan. And then, with a stretch of still water and his boat on an even keel, he would have to on a lacy pattern of American Beauty roses, his favorite design.

BRITAIN'S KING GEORGE VI
He Likes to Knit S. eaters for Friends

The skill of sailors in sewing, backstitching particularly, is an old story. There's many an old Maine skipper turning to his knitting needles now that he no longer goes out in the sky's yard in a gale. King George of England is both a sailorman and a knitter, swift and dextrous with his needles.

SPEAKING of King George, there is quite a dither in the newspapers about whether Mrs. Roosevelt should curtsy to the Queen if their majesties should visit the White House next year. I thought Mrs. Roosevelt disposed of the matter nicely in her indication that she thought it a concern of no great importance and that she would be guided by State Department protocol.

When the Billy Gann incident was filling the newspapers a few years ago it seemed a bit silly, all this ink spilled over who should precede whom and the country seemed to take it that way, vastly amused by it, on the whole.

We may be assured that King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will be received with seemingly decorum. Real contests in international time are, adequate and honest, and not dependent on personalities or the lack of it. We may be feeling pretty uneasy these days, but that need not affect our manners when their majesties land on our shores.

The Brighter Side

Election Bets Favor Garner and Farley

By DAMON RUNYON

WE HAD a talk yesterday with our private relations counsel in Washington. A lot of concerns have public relations counsel, but we like to be different, so ours is private.

We call him Mr. Z. He does not care to have his identity made known as it might cause a lot of keeholes to be closed to him and thus shut him off from much valuable inside info, and interesting scenes.

He is the fellow who makes up our future book on the Presidential nomination situation.

He said that among the Democrats there was not so much talk now of the possibility of a third-term candidacy, and that allowing that Mr. Roosevelt is going to turn hermit in his dream house up the Hudson at the close of his term, the next favorite in the Democratic future book right now is John N. Garner, of Texas, and that a well fenced parlay is Garner and Uncle Jim Farley the latter as a candidate for Vice-President.

Mr. Z said that second choice to Garner in the future book betting is Bennett Clark of Missouri, and that if Garner does not care to run, he thinks Clark is a cinch. We said we had heard it rumored that Garner and Farley have already gotten the situation as well in hand that they will say who is to be the nominee.

"Well," said Mr. Z, "I don't know whether they will have the say as to who is to be the nominee, but you can go and bet they will have the say as to who isn't to be."

IT WAS RELIEVED in Washington, he said, that Uncle Jim Farley would take the nomination for Vice-President if teamed with Garner or with Bennett Clark, either. Mr. Z assured us that Bennett Clark is getting right hot in the future book betting.

We have never met Bennett Clark, but we know his old man, the redoubtable Champ, who came within an ace of being President himself, but was finally out-juggled in favor of Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. Z said the Republicans are sort of marking time until they see how Tom Dewey comes out in his race against Herbert Lehman for the governorship of New York. He said Tom Dewey remains the hope of many Republicans for 1940, though Senator Vandenberg is still the favorite in the future book betting.

WE ASKED him how about Bruce Barton in the Republican Presidential future book and he said: "Well, Old Bruce would figure up there pretty good if Dewey had not happened. He said Bruce Barton's big advantage is that he looks like a Republican Presidential candidate, even more so than Senator Vandenberg."

He said if Dewey gets flattened by Lehman, Bruce Barton is a man to be reckoned with. Mr. Z said it looked as if Hoover is trying a come-back, all right, but that the bookies would lay a mighty long price against him right now.

He said when all is said and done, however, that as far as the Democrats are concerned, everything depends upon what Mr. Roosevelt intends doing.

He said that, Mr. Roosevelt is still quoted at even money just to play it safe, and none of the bookies want any too much money on him at that price.

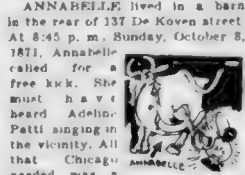

'Bugs' Baer Says:

THE FIRST GUY to see Chicago took a look at it when it wasn't there. It is mentioned by Hempsen in describing a new fort at Che-wag-on in 1890.

THE FIRST inhabitant was Baptiste Point, a Native American, who settled on the north bank of the Chicago river. Baptiste sold his cabin after a few years to the French trader, Le Mail, in 1796, and went back to Peoria in the spring. The first postoffice was a hollow tree at Lake and South Water streets with Jonathan N. Bailev, first postmaster, empowered with federal authority to read all post-cards marked private.

On February 5, 1898, the city bought a steam fire-engine and named it "Long John." Chicago was getting all set for Mrs. O'Leary's cow, Annabelle.

ANNABELLE lived in a barn in the rear of 137 De Koven street. At 8:45 p. m. Sunday, October 8, 1881, Annabelle calved for a free kkk. She must have been a very good mother, for she was singing in the vicinity. All that Chicago needed was a bit of toast and it was become one of the great cities of the world. In 1890, the ocean steamer Roadside reached Chicago from England. And this year the town was the pennant.

Polly Blodgett
To Be Honored

By BETTY ALDEN

MASSACHUSETTS old law, which has long been a headache to hotel owners and managers is now giving the debutantes something to think about . . . Saturday evening or Sunday is often the best time for a party yet the legal limitation on dancing spoils the fun . . .

Polly Blodgett, who is having her coming out party Halloween Eve, is getting around the difficulty by having an entertainment up till midnight and then dancing till two or three . . .

The party will be an informal barn dance at the Putnam House in Danvers . . . During the old fashioned Sunday night supper, which begins at ten, Sammy Eichen will be master of ceremonies and put on a variety show including music by Johnny Paane, one of Polly's personal friends, who plays and sings at the Menckley Bar in New York . . . there will also be a surprise act or two and impromptu singing by some of the talented debs in the group of debutantes . . .

Unfortunately, Polly, who is one of the country's outstanding ice skaters, will not be able to perform at her own party . . . instead, of course, she takes a furlough to ice skating . . .

Polly is the daughter of Mrs. D. Colum Blodgett of Brookline and one of the brand new debutante members of the Vincennes Club . . . She held the national junior ice skating championship a year or so ago and has been runner up for the women's national championship . . .

Cynthia Sortwell is one debutante who welcomes the opportunity of serving as an usher at the benefit performance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo November 1, sponsored by the Museum of Modern Art . . . She is even more enthusiastic about the ballet than most of her sister debs for she has studied intensive dancing since she was knee high to a grasshopper . . .

Since ushering is only a courtesy title at the Opera House the debs will be called on to assist in many ways, so one efficient member of their group must direct them . . . She will be chosen next Tuesday afternoon when they all meet for tea at "270" the attractive restaurant in the Museum of Modern Arts building . . . In addition to Cynthia the group will include the Misses Katharine and Adelaide Weld, Joanna Hoyt, Anne Knowles, Alice Jaques, Dorothy Comstock, Olivia Thorndike, Louise Barbour, Katharine Ladd, Kate Loring, Edith Moffat, Mary West, Barbara Bullitt, Betsy Chalfoux, Nancy Burrage, Dana Bird, Stephanie Edgell, and Esme de Menca . . .

Also Rosamond Higgins, Camilla White, Nancy Meyer, Harriet Bundy, Alice Chapin, Jane Cropper, Clara Jackson, Elizabeth Minot, Dora Redway and Helen Merriman . . .

First of Mornings of Diversion

THE COUNTESS OF LISTOWELL, wife of William Francis Hare, fifth Earl of Listowel, is coming over from London to give the first lecture in the popular series of Mornings of Diversion which begins next Wednesday in the Somerset Ballroom . . .

The Countess, whose husband is a member of the House of Lords, is recognized as an authority on political affairs in Europe . . . and her listeners were thoroughly captivated by her brilliant and charming manner on her lecture engagements here . . . Through her marriage in 1933 she acquired the titles of Viscountess Enniskerry and Baroness Enniskerry of the Peerage of Ireland, and of Baroness Hare in the Peerage of the United Kingdom . . .

Mrs. William Dana O'Neil, another sparkling spirit of these lectures, will be assisted at the dinner by a group of junior hostesses including Mrs. Roger W. Carter, Jr., Mrs. Morgan Harris, Mrs. Raymond W. Lapham, Mrs. Karl Adams, Jr., Mrs. Henry McBurney Parker and Mrs. Marshall Fabian . . .

Mt. Alvernia's Fashion Show

Luncheon and a fashion show is the inviting program being held by the Mount Alvernia Club Monday at the Commonwealth Country Club.

Among those serving as models will be Mrs. Robert Clair, Mrs. Edward Thornton, Mrs. Theodore Reighaus, Mrs. William Haycan, Mrs. John Thornton, Mrs. G. M. Thurmond and Mrs. James Meagher.

Among the day's hostesses will be Mrs. Sherwin Coan and Mrs. James Connors and Mrs. Frank Blackwell, who has charge of the ticket reservations.

Also helping with plans for the gala event are Mrs. Eugene O'Neil, Mrs. Daniel Lyne and Mrs. Arthur O'Keefe.

Bridge Aids Nursery Fund

Marion McCarthy
Aids Bridge Committee

Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick of Brookline was luncheon hostess to the committee of Guild of St. Elizabeth members planning a benefit bridge, November 3, to aid the guild's day nurses.

Among those attending were Mrs. William H. Taylor, guild president, who is spending the fall season at her Cohasset home, and Mrs. Evelyn Mitchell, who is serving as chairman of the benefit.

Other committee members attending were Mrs. John C. Kiley, Louise Fitzgerald and Mrs. Matheux Fox. The bridge, taking place in Mrs. Fitzpatrick's home in Swan rd., Brookline, will be the opening event on the guild's calendar.

Join Jordan Hall Concert Patrons

Mr. and Mrs. William Ellery, and Mr. and Mrs. George Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hobart are among the early subscribers for the concert by Elmer Scoville in Jordan Hall next Thursday evening.

Additional patrons and patronesses include Mrs. Lester Monks, Miss Mabel Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Murdock.

All-America Bouts Will Have Stars
Caseys of Kerry In U. S. Today

By JACK CONWAY

I HAVE BEEN receiving letters from sports writers on Hearst newspapers in New York, Syracuse, Albany and Baltimore in regard to the high caliber of the boxing teams they are going to send to Boston for the All-Eastern finals of the Hearst All-America boxing tournament that will be held at the Garden on December 12.

Mr. Boston

Paul Gardner of the New York Journal-American says he has a couple of heavyweights lined up who will surpass Joe Lubin, who won the grand national championship last year. Paul adds he has top men in the other classes and that they will get their boxing and punching tuned up at the New York trials and finals.

Bob Kenefick always brings down a classy team from Syracuse. Bob knows more about boxing than the average sports writer and has uncanny ability in developing young mitt flingers.

From Baltimore comes word from Rodger Pippin that his team will be better than average, and will make a stout-hearted bid for the titles in the various classes.

Albany will also send a powerful team here.

New England Boxers Will Be Ready

WHEN THE invigorating ring men of New England's boxers are ready for them. Tim Ketchy and George Freeman, boxing sports of a great deal of experience. Many of these boys have already shown their ring class in the Golden Glove tournament and will possess more class and class when the first of the Hearst All-American trials are held at the Arena on November 7.

There will also be trial matches at the Arena on November 14, November 21 and November 23.

The New England finals will be conducted at the Garden on December 5, while the All-Eastern finals will take place at the Garden on December 12.

New England has always been a leader in amateur boxing. I am sure it will retain its high ranking in the simon pure game and that our local mitt flingers will show good form in their trial matches, box brilliantly in the New England finals and then go on to defeat the invading punch tossers in the All-Eastern finals.

The survivors in the All-Eastern finals will compete in the grand national finals in Detroit in January. I know New England will be well represented on the team that journeys to Detroit.

Another Golden Glove Tryout Monday

THE FOURTH and final set of tryout matches in the golden glove tournament will be held at the Arena on Monday night. Then will come the finals on October 31.

Last week's Irish-American A. C. show was replete with action and it is expected that Monday night's card will also prove attractive.

The golden glove shows have given the youngsters who will later compete in the Hearst All-American tournament an opportunity to indulge in a little batting practice.

Caseys Arrive in New York Today

THE FOUR sturdy Caseys of Kerry, Steve, Paddy, Jim and Tom, will arrive in New York today. This rugged athletic family will be featured at the Eddie Hurley memorial wrestling show that will be held at the Garden on Thursday night.

The Caseys are the most powerful athletic family in the world. They are big, sturdy fellows, and each has high athletic standing in Ireland.

As warriors the Caseys rated with the best in the world, and won many championships on the Thames in England.

When they came to the United States and won the world's heavyweight mat championship.

Jack McGrath, who recently saw the Caseys when he was in Ireland, says Paddy is almost as good a wrestler as Steve. McGrath added Jim made the best ring appearance of the four brothers, while Tom is able to box as well as wrestle.

Steve has signed to defend his title against The Sheik, Paddy will clash with Jim Wallis, while Jim will meet Babe Zaharias. Tom's opponent will be named today.

50,000 IN STADIUM Back Green at 3 to 1

By BILL GRIMES

Due to conflicting opinions as to the relative strength of the contending eleven, the 45th game of the Harvard-Dartmouth series which will be played this afternoon, is a "natural" and more than 50,000 rabid and partisan gridiron enthusiasts, possibly a capacity gathering will be in the stadium to witness this classic.

Park Loop Will Play Sunday

The Boston Park Football league swings into action on six fronts in the top loop and fifteen other games in Class A on Boston municipal gridirons tomorrow afternoon.

Mattapan Merchants play host to the Scarlet and White outfit at Mattapan. At Columbia Stadium, the McCormack Club, will have the East Boston Town Team as their guests while the Chipewas go to Dorchester's Gibson Field where they will make every effort to get into the win column at the expense of the Monroe Club.

In the Western Park League division, St. Alphonsus stacks up against the Geraghty Club. Charlestown will attempt redemption at Fallon Field in Rosindale where they play the local Holy Name outfit.

The Dolan Club makes another attempt to get into the running at Connolly Playground where they meet the Sheldons.

West End House
Seek Court Games
The Malcolm E. Bancroft Club of the West End House would like to arrange basketball games with any fast amateur teams in the state. Duke Club, Y. M. H. A. Jewels, and St. Michaels of Lawrence preferred. Call Mgr. Geo. Brenner, La. 9429, or write West End House, Boston.

ROOM AND BOARD

By Gene Ahern

Herrier, Temple halfback, slides off tackle for three yards in first period.

Nichols, Temple fullback, plunges over B. C. goal line for touchdown in last period. Pop Warner's team came from behind to tie the Eagles, 26-all, in nocturnal hair-raiser.

Golden Gloves

Conqueror Of Ford in Arena Test

The Irish-American A. A. will open next week's sports program in Boston by staging the fourth annual Golden Gloves tryout tournament at the Boston Arena on Monday night.

Fights will be held in open weights at 115, 126, 135, 147 and 160 pounds and heavyweights, with two divisions for the novices at 147 and 160 pounds.

The winners of Monday night's various classes together with the victors in the three previous preliminary shows will fight for Golden Gloves titles at the Arena on Monday night, October 31.

Among the new entries are those of Mason Fleming, Somerville, and Dick Shocks, Warner, N. H., 126 pounds; William McNeil, South Duxbury, and Romeo Paris, Fitchburg, 135 pounds.

Paris has a decision over "Ticky" Ford of Lawrence, 1938 National A. A. U. lightweight titleholder.

Edward Tolia, Lawrence; Louis Smith, East Boston, 1938 state champion; Tony Barts, Nashua, N. H., and Vinnie Tarr, Warner, N. H., have signed up for the mid-dleweight battles.

Boucher Coach Of N. Y. Rovers

WINNEPEG, Oct. 22 (AP)—Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, finally has filled a long-needed want in the amateur link of his famous three-H hockey chain by appointing Frank Boucher as coach of the New York Rovers of the Eastern Amateur League.

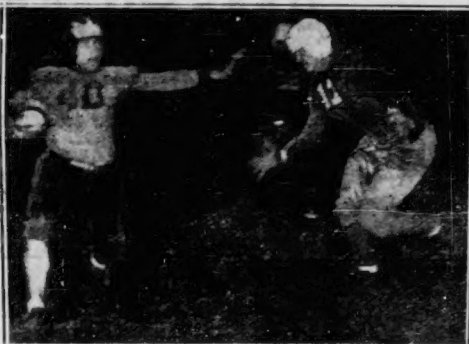

The Philadelphia Ramblers, The Rangers farm club in the International Amateur League, are coached by Herb Gardiner.

Michigan Boy Wins Hall Award

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Oct. 22 (INS)—Joseph W. Stack, Jr., of Lansing, Mich., a junior in Yale College and a member of the varsity football team this year, today had received the Norman Stewart Hall memorial scholarship in Yale University.

Crisler Calls It

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Mike Jacobs, back from the coast, makes no bones about it—he's having trouble finding guys to fight Joe Louis. . . one and all are willing, but the crop isn't what it ought to be for a heavyweight title setup.

Len Rahmont got the rave notices, but the fair-haired boy at Fordham after last week's performance against Purdue is Pete Holovak, the night halfback. . . James J. Carroll, the big St. Louis turf commissioner, reports plenty of action on War Admiral at 1 to 2 against Seabiscuit in their match race.

The fellow who scouted Fordham for Oregon was none other than Herb McCracken, former coach at Lafayette—and the score will show you old Herbie did a pretty fair job. . . Without taking a thing away from Fritz Crisler, don't forget that Harry Kipke predicted his 1937 team—that was the year before he got the old heave-ho—would drop four games (which it did) and that his 1938 outfit would be a darned good one, and if we know the fellow, nobody will be much pleased to see this squib than Fritz Crisler.

Canadian Battler Wins 23d in Row

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (INS)—Billy Marquart, Canadian lightweight, today held a ten-round victory over Wally Hally of Hollywood, Cal., which raised his string of wins to twenty-three.

Hally, groggy but game, kept his feet to the end although spectators clamored to have the fight stopped in the eighth round of their bout at White City.

'Pures' Thrill New Yorkers

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (INS)—Great news for diamond belt speculators. They follow up with two more shows at Ridgewood Grove and Vasa Temple next Thursday evening, Oct. 27.

Men in Bronx and Brooklyn are still talking about those openers this week, when 24 knockouts were registered on two fronts.

They picked them up and laid them down in two rings, and there were some exceptional novices uncovered.

At the Ridgewood Grove Thursday the second round of the 135-pound and 147-pound novice divisions will be held. Also the first round for the 175-pound novice class.

At Vasa Temple they go to the post in the second round of the 126-pound and 160-pound novice divisions. Also the first round of the 112-pound and 118-pound novices.

Vasileff Named Brown Captain

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 22 (AP)—Sergei N. Vasileff of New York City was elected captain of the Brown freshman soccer team. Vasileff prepared at Western Reserve Academy, where he played goalie on the soccer team for two years and in the outfield on the baseball team for a like period of time. He is the goalie on the Bruin first year team.

Eagles, Temple In Deadlock

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22—Boston College's football squad convinced quite completely that a team which won't be beaten, can't be beaten, left here today for New York for a look at the Fordham-Oregon game and then home to the heights for more work, with Florida next on the schedule.

The Eagles were still the talk of Quaker Town today. They gave local fans a thrill every other minute, playing Temple to a spine-tingling 26-26 dead heat. Temple provided the punch in the odd moments, thus producing a football fantasy which would leave you breathless.

A checkup today revealed few serious injuries in the B. C. squad, though plenty of bruises. Dan McCadden may have to be idle for awhile with torn leg ligaments. Leo Reardon's hip was hurt.

The Temple tie didn't add any joy to Coach Gloomy Gil Dobie's life. But he did seem a bit satisfied, and the same went for Temple's likewise venerable tutor, Pop Warner. It was their third meeting, Temple winning one, deadlocking two.

DOBIE PRAISES TEAM
"A fine exhibition of the modern game," said Dobie. "I really didn't think my team could win this one. They played good football."

At that most of the B. C. football was good, some bad. Had they been a bit tighter on defense they might have won. But it would take another Houdini to build a defense to cope with the bewildering offense Pop Warner's boys displayed.

There was some grumbling among the B. C. fans present over the officiating but Dobie and his players felt they didn't get any the worst of it.

The Eagles were bitterly disappointed at their failure to hold a seven-point lead with two minutes to play.

More gloom was thrown over the squad at the finish when Rev. Fr. Collins, B. C. athletic director, notified Pete Cignetti that his father had died in Malden.

Cignetti took a plane to Philadelphia yesterday to play for E. C. and was in for most of the first period.

He got the sad news in the dressing room, and the battle was rushed to the station to take a train to Boston.

Merchants Protest

College Name Shift

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 22 (INS)—If University of Missouri students have their way, the baying of a Missouri mule will replace the growling of a tiger as the university symbol.

Enthusiasts of the idea point out that the mule has done much more to advertise the state than the tiger, and there is no reason why the famous Missouri mule should not become identified with campus tradition.

Town merchants were quick to voice their protestations as a good many of the hotels, barber shops and stores are named after the tiger.

Nick Morris Benefit Game At Lynn

The benefit game for Nick Morris, former Holy Cross captain, who was injured while playing for the East Lynn Legion grid team in its opener, Oct. 9, will be played tomorrow at the spacious Manning Bowl, with New Bedford's unbeaten Whalers providing the opposition for the Legionnaires.

Originally billed as a night game Thursday, but postponed because of the early evening showers, the clash will draw a big crowd.

Both teams boast collections of former college stars, with Tilly Ferdenzi leading the attack of the Lynntites and Al Cullen directing the visitors.

The big full back of the Whalers will be remembered for his line bucking proclivities for the Fittons a few years ago.

The East Lynn lineup, coached by Tom Whealan and Warren McGuirk, is the same as in the previous victorious games against the Quincy Manets and Worcester pros.

Johnny Rogan, elusive ball carrier from Somerville; Al Tortolini, Warren Mulrey, Dick Hington, Ray Davis, will round out the backfield, while the line will be intact.

St. Louis U. Tops Grinnell, 27 to 7

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22 (INS)—The blue and white clad St. Louis University Bulliken scored a brace of touchdowns in the first quarter and two more in the final period to defeat Grinnell under the floodlights here, 27 to 7.

Robert Hamann, Grinnell halfback, tossed a 44-yard pass to Captain Burke Powers for Grinnell's lone touchdown in the first quarter.

RUNYAN QUALIFIES

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 22 (AP)—Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., qualified for the semi-finals of the golf "Masters" tournament by defeating Arapito Moreno, 3 and 2, in a second round match.
